to me -

Hi lan.

Sorry for the short notice but would you be willing to speak to the Video Game Law course at UBC Law this Friday. Around 11 AM - probably starting at 11:15. It would be great to see you. Maybe we can grab a coffee after class to catch up as well.

In any event let me know. If not this Friday, let me know what Fridays you may be available.

Regards,

Jon

BROWN VS ENTERTAINMENT MERCHANTS ASSOCIATION

"Like the protected books, plays, and movies that preceded them, video games communicate ideas—and even social messages—through many familiar literary devices (such as characters, dialogue, plot, and music) and through features distinctive to the medium (such as the player's interaction with the virtual world). That suffices to confer First Amendment protection."
